PRESENTERS

Hon. Beth Crawford

First Justice, Franklin Division of the Probate and Family Court

In addition to her experience as a judge, she helped create a number of Hampshire County programs, including the Hampshire Conciliation Program, For The Children parent education program for never married parents, and Standing Order 1-10 Special Procedures for Cases involving Children. Currently she serves as the co-chair of the Probate and Family Court ADR Committee.

Hon. Dina Fein

First Justice, Western Division of the Housing Court

The common theme of her professional life has been improving access to justice for all litigants, coupled with an understanding of the barriers to representation that certain classes of people experience. In addition to presiding over housing court sessions in Western Massachusetts, she is the Special Advisor for Access to Justice Initiatives, appointed by the Chief Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court and the Trial Court.

Hon. Gail Perlman (retired)

Retired First Justice, Hampshire Division of the Probate and Family Court

Her experience spans a Probate and Family Court judgeship, an active mediation practice, forays in academia, and volunteer initiatives focusing primarily on conflict resolution and social change.

Oran Kaufman, Esq.

Law, Mediation and Conflict Resolution Practices

For 25 years, he has practiced general law with a focus on families. In the last 20 years, he has expanded his practice to include collaborative law, mediation and conflict resolution. He teaches mediation courses on the college level and is a divorce mediation trainer for mediation programs. He is a frequent speaker and author about conflict resolution and family issues.

Mark Nickerson, M.S.W., L.I.C.S.W.

Director of Parent Education, Hampshire County Bar Association

His professional life has focused on family issues, conflict resolution, violence prevention, combat veterans and trauma recovery. In addition to his work as Director of Parent Education for the Hampshire County Bar Association, he has been in private practice for over 30 years, co-founded the Men's Resource Center and is Board President for the EMDR International Association.

Dorothy Meyer Storrow, Esq.

Private Practice

In private practice since 1986, she has represented children and parents in the Probate & Family, Juvenile and appellate courts, has lectured extensively about issues involving representation of children and parents, has authored several articles published in MCLE and has been an appellate and trial panel mentor for the Committee for Public Counsel Services Children and Family Law (CAFL) Program. As the CAFL Program's regional coordinator, she provided advice and technical assistance to attorneys and was liaison between the Bar Association, the local courts and the community.
